

How do

Snowflakes

Become

ICE

With the weight of many snowflakes pushing together they form solid ice sheets. In Antarctica 95% of the continent is ice, formed by millions of snowflakes pushed together. Learn more at www.cresis.ku.edu