

GRILLED Cheese vs ICE

of The Refridgerator of The Arctic

DING!

Grilled cheese can handle the heat!

Just like the ice in your freezer at home, glaciers have a melting point of 32° F. Grilled cheese has a melting point of 120° F, and when compared to the melting point of ice, the results show grilled cheese has a melting point almost four times as hot as ice!

To find out more fun trivia, visit www.cresis.ku.edu
Center for Remote Sensing of Ice Sheets, elementary program